WRAL-TV5 Issues/Programs Quarterly Report

April 1, 2011 – June 30, 2011

Durham is in the process of approving their 2011-2012 budget proposal. The $418 million dollar budget is nearly $21 million dollars less than the previous year. It reflects an anticipated 9% decrease in state funding and a loss of $3 million dollars from lottery money that was used to support teacher jobs.

Wake School Board

The Wake County School Board had to vote on some tough issues. The outcome is that several people lost their jobs and voting lines in the county were drawn.

2:00 05/19/2011 5PM

Adults In Community College

A lot of adults who decided to enroll in community college haven't been in a classroom for years. This means that many have forgotten a lot of what they learned in high school.

Race To The Top Graduation

It is called the Race to the Top Commencement Challenge. High schools across the country competed to show they are preparing students for college and a career. Wayne Early Middle College High School is on the campus of Wayne Community College. Students take both high school and college classes. However, this school did not win the grand prize - a commencement speech by the President. As a runner-up, the keynote speaker at tonight's graduation is Tammy Duckworth. She is the Department of Veterans Affairs Assistant Secretary for Public and Intergovernmental Affairs. Duckworth is a veteran herself. An attack on her helicopter caused the loss of both her legs.

Manning School Funding

Day two of testimony about possible impacts of budget cuts on education began with the head of the North Carolina Superintendents' Association, Dr. Jim Causby. He told the court thousands of teachers and administrators will lose their jobs, taking a toll on learning and school safety.

Scotty's School Visit

The money came from Scotty's visit to his high school a week and a half ago - when hundreds of fans were there to greet him. For a small donation, Scotty's fans were able to drive the latest Ford cars. These events usually raise about $3,000, but Ford bumped up the donation to $10,000, on behalf of Scotty's high school.

Cumberland School Cuts

Staff cuts in Cumberland County schools won't be as severe as first thought. The school system was expecting to cut 374 jobs due to state budget cuts. However, the final version of the budget will allow the system to restore between 39 and 78 positions. Associate Superintendent Ricky Lopes says the jobs would either be teachers, teaching assistants or a combination of the two.

We're still celebrating Scotty McCreery's big American Idol win – along with his high school chorus teacher Meredith Clayton!

2:00 05/28/2011 5PM

School In Rose Parade

Broughton High will march in January's Tournament of Roses Parade. Broughton is one of 21 bands chosen from across the country. The parade airs nationally, live from Pasadena, California just before kickoff for the Rose Bowl.

Greene County Schools

To make the schedule change work, high schoolers were put on a two hour, delayed start. Some of the high schoolers say it impacted their ability to hold afterschool jobs. But, the schedules are now switching with high schoolers going in the mornings. School leaders hope to have the middle school rebuilt by the 2012-2013 school year.

Teacher Assistants' Budget

The senate version of the budget could also add some more teaching position while scaling back on teacher assistants. Local school leaders aren't sure if it would be enough to make up the difference. Lawmakers are also considering reworking the budget in a way that could lessen those projected teachers assistant cuts.

2:00 05/31/2011 5PM

Wake Reassignment

Two plans are on the table that could decide where your child goes to school in Wake County. Starting today, public meetings will be held for parents to learn about the plans and to provide feedback.

2:00 06/03/2011 5:30PM

Wake Healthy Kids

The healthy schools that took home the top prizes are AB Combs, Fuller, and Underwood Elementary schools in Raleigh as well as St. Mary Magdalene Catholic School in Apex.

2:00 06/08/2011 5:30PM

Wake County Graduations

Wake County is gearing up for a busy weekend - it's graduation time! 18 high schools will hold ceremonies between Friday morning and Sunday night. They'll be at the Progress Energy Center and Raleigh Convention Center, both in located in downtown Raleigh.

2:00 06/08/2011 5PM

Graduation Rates

The state's graduation rate was 72.8 percent in 2008 which is slightly above the national average of 71.7 percent. It's the first time North Carolina has been above the national rate. And one of the best improvements in the country, between 1998 to 2008. Governor Bev Perdue is traveling the state, to share the good news, along with what she perceives to be the bad news - the state budget and its impact on education.

2:00 06/10/2011 5PM

Charter Schools

State lawmakers voted to remove the cap on the number of charter schools across the state. It would lift the 100 school limit.

2:00 06/10/2011 5PM

UNC Board of Governors

Local universities will soon feel the impact of state budget cuts. That was part of the discussion among the UNC board of governors. Board chair Hannah Gage says it's a painful pattern.

2:00 06/12/2011 NOON

Fuquay Graduation

WRAL-TV5 Issues/Programs Quarterly Report
April 1, 2011 – June 30, 2011

One local grad had her dad watching from halfway around the world! Media specialists at Fuquay-Varina High reached out to WRAL to help Lieutenant Colonel Michael Tormenti see his daughter graduate. A video camera captured the ceremony and fed it live to Afghanistan through the internet. For Victoria, it was the next best thing to having her dad there.

2:00 06/13/2011 5PM

Wake County Schools - Blue Plan Trial Run

The trial run for the newly proposed Blue assignment plan begins Monday morning. Parents can log on and rank their school choices until June 20th. The idea is to see how student distribution might work. Tata will be available for interviews at 2:00pm Monday. He plans to take a proposal to the board on June 21st.

2:00 06/16/2011 5PM

Rural Teacher Layoffs

Schools are one place to see an immediate impact of the new state budget. Officials estimate as many as 13,000 public education jobs could be lost. Many educators heard the bad news this week.

2:00 06/20/2011 5PM

Wake Budget

Wake County Commissioners are due to vote tonight on a new $951 million dollar budget. The spending plan calls for some jobs to be cut and others to be created. The county library's book budget will lose funds but Wake County Schools will get the more than $300 million dollars they say they need to operate.

2:00 06/21/2011 5PM

Tata Presentation

There is still more work to be done on the proposed plan. It should be complete by September or October. By the end of the year, parents should be logging on to make their choices. Superintendent Tata will soon meet with the state NAACP. The group is also concerned about maintaining diversity in the assignment. No date and time has been set.

2:00 06/23/2011 ALL AM

Student Assignments

Wake County is headed in a specific direction on where students will go to school. The superintendent said student assignment will be based on parent choice. As Adams Owens reports, that will be the basis for a proposal still in the works.

2:00 06/24/2011 5PM

Driver's Ed Cost

In Wake County, driver's education cost schools $3.3 million dollars last year. But the new budget cuts $750,000 from the program in the coming year. To make up the difference, the state is allowing school systems to charge up to a $45 fee to take the course.

2:00 06/26/2011 5PM

Blue Plan

It's called the Blue plan or the Choice plan—where families rank the schools they want. An on-line test run of the system wrapped up Friday. The Superintendent plans to use the feedback to shape a final assignment plan, where parents will choose from a variety of schools.

2:00 06/29/2011 5PM

Longer School Day

Wake County students won't have to sit in class longer next year, after all. The school board wanted to add ten minutes to the school day instead of adding 5 extra days to the school calendar. Lawmakers added those days during the legislative session. Wake County decided not to ask for the extra time in class and will use the extra days as teacher workdays instead.

2:00 06/30/2011 5PM

Governor Vetoes

Perdue's vetoes today may have won her accolades from environmental advocates, but GOP lawmakers weren't exactly cheering.

WRAL-TV5 Issues/Programs Quarterly Report

April 1, 2011 – June 30, 2011

HEALTH

2:00 04/02/2011 5:30PM

Pain Relievers

When you open your medicine cabinet to treat your child's pain or fever - how much medication is too much? Fifty percent of liver failures in the U.S. are from accidental overdoses - and pain relievers are a major cause. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask offers help on when and how to use these medications.

2:00 04/04/2011 5:30PM

Hula Hoop

Health benefits of new hula hoop exercise craze.

2:00 04/05/2011 5:30PM

Long Work Day

Spending long hours on the job may mean long hours in your doctor's office. Researchers say the more you work, the more you're at risk of developing heart disease. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains more in this report.

2:00 04/05/2011 5:30PM

Heart Implant

Heart attacks can come quite unexpectedly. But a new implant device now in clinical trials promises to warn the patient of a heart event before it happens. Dr. Allen Mask shares details in this report.

STD Awareness

If you're sexually active, then you are at risk of a sexually transmitted disease. About 19 million new STDs occur each year in the U.S. And almost half of those cases are in young people from 15 to 24 years old. Dr. Allen Mask explains, state public health officials say the answer is education and frank conversations.

Tick Cloth

We love the warmer temperatures - but most of us don't like the biting insects that come with it. You may also not care for repellant sprays or lotions. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, a newer option is special insect repellant clothing.

2:00 04/10/2011 5:30PM

Heart Transplant Couple

Tens of thousands of people are currently waiting for a matching organ donor in the United States. Many of them are children - born with heart defects - waiting for a new heart. As WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, one girl on the transplant list wasn't sure she wanted to go through with it until she met a special someone.

2:00 04/11/2011 5:30PM

Obesity Drug

Two-thirds of Americans are overweight or obese - and for many, simple diet and exercise remedies don't seem to work long term. Doctors have been looking for a more effective medical treatment before turning to weight-loss surgery. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, Duke researchers may have found an answer.

2:00 04/12/2011 5:30PM

Music Germs

Your child's musical instrument may produce sweet sounds. But what's inside may not be so sweet. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, it could be a place for bacteria to live and grow.

2:00 04/13/2011 5:30PM

Melanoma

WRAL-TV5 Issues/Programs Quarterly Report
April 1, 2011 – June 30, 2011

It's the season when people spend more time outside in the sun. It's also a time when people need to be more aware of their risk of skin cancer - especially the most dangerous form, melanoma. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains that early detection is the key to survival.

2:00                      04/14/2011                      5:30PM

Cooking Soup

Doctors often preach the health benefits of a good bowl of chicken soup - especially for a cold. But the truth is, many different soups can be a healthy way to get more vegetables, fruit and lean protein in your diet. Dr. Mask was with a renowned chef who shows us how to make delicious, healthy soups.

2:00                      04/15/2011                      5:30PM

Macular Degeneration

Macular Degeneration is the leading cause of blindness in this country - affecting 1 in 10 Americans over 40 years of age. As WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, researchers find more Vitamin D could help prevent the disease in women.

2:00                      04/18/2011                      5:30PM

Fayetteville Tornado Injuries

The storms on Saturday left at least one person dead and several injured in Cumberland County. It brought business as usual to an abrupt halt and tested the disaster plans of several hospitals.

2:00                      04/19/2011                      5:30PM

Storm Psychology

Tornados leave more than destruction; they also leave fear and anxiety, especially in many young children. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask offers help for families coping with the storms aftermath.

2:00                      04/20/2011                      5:30PM

Cath Lab Changes

Diagnosing and treating heart disease involves one of the most common procedures performed in hospitals called catheterization. It exposes the patient to radiation and contrast dye that can be hard on the kidneys. As WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, a new equipment in cath labs reduce these exposure risks.

2:00                      04/21/2011                      5:30PM

WakeMed 50th

WakeMed Hospital is celebrating half a century of medical care. The county opened Wake Memorial Hospital in 1961. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask introduces us to one nurse who's been there almost from the start.

2:00                      04/22/2011                      5:30PM

TV and Children

Children who sit in front of TV and video are at risk of obesity. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, new research shows the TV addiction can also take a toll on the eyes and the heart.

2:00                      04/25/2011                      5:30PM

Cortisone Eczema

Eczema is a common, but troublesome, skin problem. Now, researchers have a new way to treat it. WRAL Health Team's Doctor Allen Mask explains more in this report.

2:00                      04/28/2011                      5:30PM

Early Autism

Studies show autism can be diagnosed as early as one year of age. That is, if the parents recognize the signs and seek the right kind of help. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, early diagnosis is key to helping these children reach their potential.

2:00                      04/29/2011                      5:30PM

Tornado Mold

WRAL-TV5 Issues/Programs Quarterly Report
April 1, 2011 – June 30, 2011

Those trying to rebuild or repair their homes or businesses after the tornadoes may face an unexpected health problem - allergies. The Health Team's Dr. Allen Mask reports, the wind and rain left the specter of mold in addition to other allergy triggers.

2:00                      05/03/2011                      5:30PM

Hemorrhoids

It's a delicate medical issue to talk about - but it affects 60 percent of adults at some time in their lives. We're talking about hemorrhoids. Patients often suffer through the pain because standard treatment can also hurt! But as WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, there is a new procedure that offers a solution, with very little discomfort.

2:00                      05/04/2011                      5:30PM

Sweetener Label

The government says we eat more than 45 pounds of added sugar each year. Add in diet sodas and sugar free desserts, we also eat a lot of artificial sweeteners. Food experts are convinced that's not always a good thing.

2:00                      05/06/2011                      5:30PM

Wrist Angioplasty

The shortest path to the heart turns out to be the best one for cardiac catheterization. It's a common medical procedure in the U.S. As WRAL's Doctor Allen Mask explains, researchers compared two routes to the heart -- through a major artery in the leg or by way of the wrist.

2:00                      05/11/2011                      5:30PM

Kids CT Scans

Too many children are getting unnecessary brain scans when they go to the emergency room with a head injury. That's the finding of a new report in the Journal of Pediatrics. As WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, the concern is the risk of too much exposure to radiation.

2:00                      05/12/2011                      5:30PM

Cord Blood Cerebral Palsy

Cerebral palsy is one of the most common disorders of childhood. It robs a child of the ability to move or speak normally. There is no cure, but as WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, Duke researchers are exploring a treatment that offers hope for lessening the symptoms.

2:00                      05/16/2011                      5:30PM

Sickle Cell

About 1 in 500 African American children will be born with sickle cell anemia. That may lead to a shorter life span and more days spent in pain and in hospitals. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, Duke researchers looked at the effectiveness of a drug in very young children that's only been approved for use in adults.

2:00                      05/17/2011                      5:30PM

Healthy Recipe

A local school is in the running for top honors, in a competition to fight childhood obesity. As Dr. Allen Mask reports, the school is one of 15 chosen from more than 300, that are coming up with healthier school lunches.

2:00                      05/19/2011                      5:30PM

Burn Treatment

Among the deepest scars suffered by those with severe burns is the one to their own self image. Plastic surgeons have new tools that can make those scars less noticeable. As WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains - those tools are helping a Raleigh woman put a terrible attack behind her.

2:00                      05/20/2011                      5:30PM

Aortic Valve

WRAL-TV5 Issues/Programs Quarterly Report
April 1, 2011 – June 30, 2011

A common cause of heart failure in older people is a defective heart valve. Open Surgery to correct the problem may be too risky for some patients. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, a new clinical trial at Duke is testing a way to replace the valve without the risks of invasive surgery.

2:00                      05/23/2011                      5:30PM

Home Births

Doctors say hospitals are the safest place to give birth. However, more and more women are choosing to have their babies at home. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask looks at the serious issues families should consider.

2:00                      05/24/2011                      5:30PM

Prosthetic Eye

Most eye injuries don't result in the loss of the eye. When they do, a prosthetic or false eye is an option. They need replacing every few years and that can get very expensive! WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask shows us how some heroes stepped up to help an aspiring teacher start his career with a new eye.

2:00                      05/24/2011                      5:30PM

Health Apps

It's not just for phoning home anymore. The new generation of smart phones offers enough applications to keep you informed, entertained and healthy. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask looked into whether these apps are all they claim to be.

2:00                      05/26/2011                      5:30PM

Drug Shortage

Hospitals faced with a shortage of certain common prescriptions are finding creative ways to meet the need.

2:00                      05/27/2011                      5:30PM

Sunscreen

As you enjoy the start of summer weather, remember to take care of your skin. Skin cancer keeps increasing in the U.S. It's still the most common of cancers. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask shows us how to make sure the sunscreen you buy will protect you.

2:00                      05/28/2011                      5:30PM

Allergies

Doctors recommend immunotherapy for anyone with severe allergies or people with symptoms more than 3 months out of the year. The shots contain small amounts of allergens which gradually build a resistance to pollen, mold, and pet dander.

2:00                      05/31/2011                      5:30PM

Colon Cancer

It is the second leading cancer killer in the United States. The most comprehensive study touches on the link between colorectal cancer and your diet. As Dr. Allen Mask explains, what you eat could be endangering your life.

2:00                      06/01/2011                      5:30PM

Laser Treatment

For years, doctors have been using lasers to try to rejuvenate skin. Now the FDA has approved a home laser treatment that promises to take years off your face. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, it all comes without the big doctor's office price tag.

2:00                      06/06/2011                      5:30PM

Macular Degeneration Test

Macular degeneration is a condition that can rob you of your eyesight. People over age 65 face are at greater risk. It can be inherited. And there are no symptoms until you notice problems with your vision. As WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, a simple genetic test can tell you your risk and how you can reduce it.

2:00                      06/07/2011                      5:30PM

Tanning Beds

WRAL-TV5 Issues/Programs Quarterly Report
April 1, 2011 – June 30, 2011

As we approach summer, many people are working on their summer tan. More people understand the risks of too much sun. But some of them have turned to indoor tanning beds for what they think is a safer alternative. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, regardless of where you get your tan, the price you may pay is skin cancer.

2:00                      06/08/2011                      5:30PM

JAMA Ovarian Cancer

Ovarian cancer is one of the leading causes of cancer deaths among women. There are screening tests for early detection. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, researchers looked at the risks and benefits of those tests.

2:00                      06/09/2011                      5:30PM

Sun and Toddlers

Summer is already baking North Carolina and many parts of the country. Tonight, a new report is warning parents about protecting infants and toddlers from the sun. Dr. Mask explains how those rays could cause harm for them down the road.

2:00                      06/10/2011                      5:30PM

Breast Cancer Family

When the Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure starts this morning, a special family will participate. This family represents three generations of breast cancer survivors. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, their story illustrates the advances in care over almost 30 years.

2:00                      06/13/2011                      5:30PM

Colon Cancer

Nearly 150,000 Americans are diagnosed with colorectal cancer every year. Researchers say 45% of those cases are preventable.

2:00                      06/14/2011                      5:30PM

Comedian Dentist

Most children dread going to the dentist. But there's a pediatric dentist in New York who tries to make his office visits fun. As WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask shows us, he keeps his patients in stitches with his jokes.

2:00                      06/15/2011                      5:30PM

Menopause Options

Menopause can present a lot of problems for many women. Some may be able to handle symptoms without medical assistance. Others need help, but are afraid of the possible side effects of hormone replacement therapy. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask tells us that there are safe options if you're under a doctor's care.

2:00                      06/20/2011                      5:30PM

Kids Food Allergies

A new study suggests nearly 10 percent of children in the United States have some form of food allergy. Forty percent of those children suffer severe reactions. The study followed 40,000 children. About 8 percent had food allergies or 6 million children in the country. Peanuts and milk were the most common sources.

2:00                      06/21/2011                      5:30PM

Buffet Diet

Restaurant buffets can be the easiest way to ruin a diet. An all-you-can-eat variety of healthy and not-so-healthy food can be too much to resist. As WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask shows us, TV's Dr. Phil sent an overweight teen to a program in Durham to learn how to overcome these challenges.

2:00                      06/23/2011                      5:30PM

ATV Girl Hyperbaric

All Terrain Vehicles can be fun - but one ride can quickly turn tragic, especially with children involved. A 12 year old girl in South Hill, Virginia nearly lost both legs in an accident in January. As WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains, she's had a dramatic comeback thanks to medical care at Duke and her own determination.

WRAL-TV5 Issues/Programs Quarterly Report
April 1, 2011 – June 30, 2011

2:00 06/24/2011 5:30PM

Saliva Age

A saliva sample used to zero in on a criminal suspect? A new discovery about DNA in saliva may also lead to new medical applications. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask explains more in this report.

2:00 06/27/2011 5:30PM

Kids Stroke Camp

Partial paralysis due to a stroke does not just happen in adults. Children can suffer stroke due to problems at birth or after a brain trauma. WRAL's Dr. Allen Mask shows us that there's a summer camp for these kids that may help them overcome their weakness.

Various cut-ins (2+mins) 06/28/2011 5:30PM

Doctors On Call

Pediatricians staffed a phone bank for 2 hours in our studio answering viewers' questions concerning children's health. Program included cut-ins during all evening newscasts.

2:00 06/29/2011 5:30PM

Doctors On Call Answers

Interviews with pediatricians answering questions about current summertime viruses and prescribing antibiotics.

HERE TO HELP/DISASTER RELIEF

2:00 04/18/2011 5PM

Ben Martin Elementary Rebuilding

Hundreds of elementary school students in Fayetteville won't be able to set foot inside their school for some time. A tornado caused extensive damage to Benjamin Martin Elementary. The students are now at a temporary site. WRAL's Bryan Mims shows us how they're settling in.

2:00 04/19/2011 5PM

Price Gouging

While most of us are heartbroken to see all the damage, others see it as a chance to make money. Because 18 counties are under a state of emergency, the state's price gouging law went into effect. And, as David Crabtree explains, now consumers and the state have a way to fight back.

2:00 04/20/2011 6PM

After School Programs and the Storms

Normally at this time of day, hundreds of children would be packed into the Boys and Girls club for after-school activities, but not this week. Three Raleigh locations are in recovery-mode after the storms. WRAL's Adam Owens reports from one of the locations on North Raleigh Boulevard.

1HR 04/20/2011 7PM

Here to Help Disaster Relief Telethon

In direct response to the deadly tornadoes that struck numerous counties within the WRAL viewing area on April 16th, the station assembled volunteers to take pledges from 4pm-8pm during a "Here to Help Disaster Relief" on-air fundraiser. The telethon included cut-ins during the 5, 5:30 and 6pm newscasts and a 1 hour program about ongoing disaster relief efforts. The final result of viewers' generous donations was approximately $858,0000 to assist four non-profit relief organizations including; NC Baptist Men, Salvation Army of Wake County, American Red Cross, and Samaritan's Purse. These agencies provided direct assistance to families and individuals adversely affected by the storms.

2:00 04/22/2011 5PM

Cumberland County FEMA Food Help

Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) has two RV's set up here at the social services building on Ramsey Street. Agents will be here all day, every day, to take applications for help. The storm left a nasty calling card on Cumberland County -- not just in what we can so plainly see, but what is unseen.

Here to Help Call-in
Consumer specialists from the Attorney General's office and Department of Insurance answered viewer calls for three hours (4P-7P) to assist consumers with insurance claims in the wake of the recent tornados. Program included cut-ins during the 5p, 5:30p and 6p newscasts.

2:00 04/26/2011 5PM
Tornado Cleanup Volunteers
Volunteer organizations are helping remove storm debris. The North Carolina Baptist Men and Samaritan's Purse are prepared to respond. Raleigh and Wake County are assisting these volunteer organizations in identifying those who need help. If you want to register for assistance today or tomorrow, go to WRAL.com and search tornadoes.

2:00 05/06/2011 6PM
Fishel/Ben Martin Elem Tour
It's been nearly three weeks since a tornado devastated this Cumberland County school-- ripping apart classrooms and forcing students to move to a different building. Tonight, WRAL is "Here to Help" brings those children and their teachers some relief. Bryan Mims reports that WRAL's own Greg Fishel stopped by with a surprise for everyone at their new campus.

2:00 05/10/2011 5:30PM
Sampson County FEMA
The April 16th tornadoes caused at least $10 million dollars in damage in Sampson County alone. But it wasn't until this week that FEMA opened a disaster assistance center. The agency has offices open in 11 counties. WRAL's Bryan Mims reports, a couple dozen people in Sampson County have already come to seek help in rebuilding their lives.

2:00+ 05/13/2011 5/5:30/6PM
Neighbors Helping Neighbors
One of the areas pummeled by the storms was Lee County. Today, WRAL partnered with Neighbors Helping Neighbors for a day-long collection drive for Sanford families impacted by the tornadoes. Greg Fishel and Bryan Mims were both out there for the event. Individuals may receive donated items if they have a referral from FEMA or another local relief agency.

Baptist Men Cleanup in May
Every day since the tornado hit last month, volunteers with the North Carolina Baptist Men have been on storm cleanup. They've helped more than 450 homeowners so far, most of them in Wake County. The disaster relief organization has about 75 jobs left to complete. The organization hopes more storm victims will take them up on this free service.

48 HOURS MYSTERY - "Name, Rank and Serial Killer?" - a report on Colonel Russell Williams, a highly-regarded Canadian military officer, and a crime spree that began with a series of bizarre thefts of lingerie and ultimately led to the discovery that he was a serial killer. In 2007, a series of crimes occurred in and around the town of Tweed, Ontario, where Col. Williams lived. In 2009, Laurie Massicotte, one of Williams' neighbors, was sexually terrorized in her home. Shortly afterwards, Marie France Comeau, a corporal at Trenton Airbase, where Williams was stationed, was beaten, raped, and suffocated to death. There were no leads in either case. Two months later, Jessica Lloyd went missing in the nearby town of Belleville, and authorities discovered their first solid clues: tire tracks and boot prints. In 2010, Col. Williams was stopped at a random roadblock. Police noticed his tire tracks matched the ones found near Jessica Lloyd's home. He was brought in for questioning and the ensuing battle of wits between the colonel and Det. Sergeant Jim Smith, the police interrogator from the Ontario Provincial Police, would uncover the details of his chilling double life. After nine hours of interrogation, he confessed, and told police where they could find videos of the crimes. The most surprising evidence however, were the trophies Williams kept to commemorate his crimes: thousands of underpants, bras and camisoles, found in his garage, and photos of him modeling the items. Authorities also found child pornography on his computer. In a deal that almost fell apart over the pornography issue, Williams pleaded guilty to the murders of Comeau and Lloyd, to two sexual assaults and to eighty-two counts of breaking and entering -- the bizarre underwear thefts that started it all. The judge sentenced him to the maximum, life behind bars, which he is serving at the penitentiary in Kingston, Ontario. Although the Canadian government stripped Williams of his rank, burned his uniform and crushed his car, he got to keep his air force pension. Concluding onscreen graphic: Laurie Massicotte is planning to sue the Ontario police for failing to protect her from Russell Williams. Interviewed: Laurie Massicotte,

48 HOURS MYSTERY - "Grave Injustice" - a report on the case of Anthony Graves, who spent eighteen years -- twelve of them on death row -- in a Texas prison for murders he did not commit. In 1992, the Davis family, four of them young children, were found bludgeoned, shot and stabbed to death, in the charred remains of the family home in Somerville, Texas. Texas Rangers quickly zeroed in on Robert Carter: father of the youngest victim, 4-year-old Jason, he was recently served with papers for child support and Rangers believed he wanted his boy dead. Carter eventually admitted that he was at the crime scene, but said that another man, Anthony Graves, committed the murders. There was little to connect Graves to Carter or to the Davis family, but justice was swift, and Anthony Graves was convicted of six counts of capital murder and sentenced to death. He always proclaimed his innocence. Carter was also convicted. In 2000, while in the death chamber, Robert Carter took sole responsibility for the murders. In fact, he had been saying much the same for years. Then in 2002, the case caught the eye of Professor Nicole Casarez and her journalism students. After a four-year investigation, the students concluded that Anthony Graves was a innocent man. Texas Monthly editor Pam Coloff, who herself spent months investigating the case, reached the same conclusion. The students turned their findings over to Graves' attorneys, helping to trigger a chain of legal maneuvers that, in 2010, freed him from prison. Now, he is fighting to get compensation for his wrongful incarceration. Concluding onscreen text graphic: Due to a technicality in the wording on his release papers, Texas is refusing to compensate Anthony Graves. Otherwise, he would be entitled to $1.4 million for wrongful incarceration. Includes interviews with Anthony Graves; Nicole Casarez, professor, University of St. Thomas, Houston; Pam Coloff, Texas Monthly editor; Charles Sebesta (District Attorney); Kelly Siegler (District Attorney); Meghan Bingham (student); Arthur Curry (Graves' brother); Katherine Scardino (attorney); Jimmy Phillips (attorney); Roy Rueter (Graves' friend); Otto Hanak (investigator). 48 HOURS MYSTERY - "Last Chance for Justice" - a report on the investigation into the 1980 murder of Marilyn McIntyre, who was found dead in her Columbus, Wisconsin home. Her husband, Lane McIntyre, had returned home from work that morning and found her body. As police checked into his alibi, he named his friend Curt Forbes as a potential suspect. The investigation found that Forbes was out that night trying to pick up women and even showed up at his girlfriend Debby Attleson's home at 4 am, but everything was circumstantial. Forbes abruptly left town. Suspicion shifted back to Lane because he had taken out a life insurance policy less than a week before Marilyn's death. Neither man was arrested and the investigation came to a halt. Forbes married Debby Attleson. The case went unsolved for thirty years, until Marilyn's niece -- upset because her mother, Carolyn Rahn (Marilyn's twin sister) was distraught and could not get over the murder -- decided to call the Columbus Police Department. Instead, she accidentally contacted the Columbia County Sheriff's Department, who were unaware of an unsolved murder in their county and decided to launch an investigation. In 2007, the case was reopened. Blood and hair samples taken in 1980 were sent to the Wisconsin State Crime Lab for DNA testing. Lane McIntyre was not a match for the DNA evidence, but when police examined a sample from Curt Forbes, he was then listed as a possible contributor. Detectives spent the next two years sorting through evidence and re-interviewing witnesses. Curt's wife Debby now admitted that she saw blood on his shirt on the night of the murder. Curt was then arrested for Marilyn's murder and in November, 2010, the trial began. He was found guilty of first-degree murder and sentenced to life in prison. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Facebook Detectives" - A report about three Texas housewives, Tammy Markle, Joni Shannon and Tina Wiley, who call themselves the "Facebook Detectives" and who used the Internet to try to find their friend Lisa Stone, who disappeared from her Dallas home in June 2010. The four women had been friends in high school, but now kept in touch with each other via Facebook. Lisa posted every day, and her friends became worried when she abruptly stopped posting in June 2010. They confronted Lisa's former life partner Sherry Henry, who said that Lisa was out of town. That is also what she told the police. The three friends did not believe her and feared for Lisa's safety. They formed a Facebook page dedicated to finding Lisa. One evening when Joni Shannon was going back to question Sherry Henry, she realized that Sherry was in the car next to hers and she followed her. Sherry pulled in to a 7-11 parking lot, took things out of her car and put them into a dumpster. When Sherry left, Joni examined the dumpster and found personal items which had belonged to Lisa, including her birth certificate. When the women brought this new information to the attention of the police, they agreed to take another look at the case. The police confronted Sherry Henry, who still insisted that she did not know where Lisa was. She said that Lisa had financial problems and was dependent on medication for depression. Sherry claimed she was also using cocaine. Sherry said Lisa often went off for a few days, and that is why she didn't file a missing persons report. Homicide detective Jim Gallagher believes that Lisa Stone is dead. He feels that Sherry Henry is a person of interest in the case, but does not have enough evidence against her. Sherry Henry insists she is innocent and does not

48 HOURS - "The Boy Next Door" - a report on the hunt for a serial killer suspected of murdering three young women from Los Angeles, California to Chicago, Illinois. In 2001, Los Angeles resident Ashley Ellerin was planning to attend a Grammy party with actor Ashton Kutcher. When Kutcher arrived at her home, she never answered the door; it turned out that she had been brutally stabbed to death the night before. Her friends directed the police to Michael Gargiulo, a former boxer and aspiring actor who was working as a repairman -- friends said that he was oddly fixated with her. In the course of the police investigation, the police learned Gargiulo was being investigated for another crime -- the unsolved murder of Tricia Paccaccio, who had lived in Gargiulo's former Glenview, Illinois neighborhood. Due to lack of evidence, he had never been charged, and he left for California. Five years after the Ellerin murder, another woman, Maria Bruno, was found dead just steps away from the apartment where Gargiulo lived. In that case, detectives found a blue cotton booty, with a drop of Maria's blood on the bottom. In 2008, a Santa Monica woman was attacked, but survived. Blood evidence and DNA (which had been filed in the National Database by Cook County Illinois authorities) led investigators to Michael Gargiulo, who was living just across the alley from where the woman was attacked. Police arrested Gargiulo and the investigation led to a connection to all of the cases involving the several young women. Gargiulo insists he is innocent. Onscreen text graphic: Michael Gargiulo is scheduled to stand trial for the murders of Ashley Ellerin and Maria Bruno in California in 2012. If convicted, he will face the death penalty. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "House of Secrets" - On September 4, 2006, Kathy Wangler, wife of anesthesiologist Dr. Mark Wangler, died from carbon monoxide poisoning in their home in Lima, Ohio. Their thirty-year marriage had been falling apart; three years later, in 2009, investigators came to the conclusion that Dr. Wangler had murdered his wife. They did not believe his story that the death was caused due to a faulty water heater. On the night in question, Mark was sleeping downstairs with the window open and had a fan blowing. Fourteen months after Kathy's death, Mark had gotten remarried to Esther Erkman, a woman he met at church. Esther, along with Mark and Kathy's two son's, believed him to be innocent. Kathy's mother and sisters felt that since Mark was familiar with gasses that he was able to plan and execute the perfect murder. Mark was arrested and the case was brought to trial. The jury found him guilty of aggravated murder and he was sentenced to life in prison. Onscreen text graphics: Mark Wangler will be eligible for parole in twenty-five years. 48 HOURS MYSTERY - "Follow the Money" - a second update to "Blood and Money" (OAD: 11/18/06, updated 07/14/07). In April 2006, Andrew Kissel, a real estate mogul who had embezzled more than $40 million, was found tied up and stabbed to death in the basement of his Greenwich, Connecticut mansion, just days before he was to plead guilty for his crimes. He was said to have never recovered from the Hong Kong murder of his brother Robert (in a case which was dubbed the "Milkshake Murder"). Andrew began spending lots of money -- money that wasn't his. He stole millions before he was arrested and charged with bank fraud. Nearly two years after his death, his driver and confidant, Carlos Trujillo, was arrested for the crime. In November 2010, Trujillo went on trial for murder and attempted murder. Trujillo had been the last person to see Andrew Kissel alive, but police had no viable case against him, until Trujillo's own cousin, petty thief Lenny Trujillo, came forward. Lenny said he helped Carlos plan the murder. The motive was that after federal authorities froze Kissel's assets, members of the Trujillo family had been enlisted by Kissel to help launder money; but in the process, $200,000 of Kissel's money disappeared, and Kissel was about to turn Trujillo in. After a ten-day trial, with Lenny as the star witness against Carlos, Carlos was found not guilty of murder and the jury was deadlocked on the charge of attempted murder. Authorities planned to re-try him, but three months after being found not guilty, Carlos Trujillo pleaded guilty to attempted murder. He still maintained his innocence, and claimed that a plea bargain was a practical decision in order to get credit for time already served. Authorities are satisfied, although they believe that they will truly never really know what really happened to Andrew Kissel. Onscreen text graphics: After serving his six year sentence, Carlos Trujillo will be deported to Colombia. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Whole Truth" - a report on the 26-year effort of Bruce Lisker to overturn his conviction for the 1983 murder of his mother. In March 1983, 17-year-old Bruce Lisker hysterically called 911 to tell Los Angeles police that he had found his mother, Dorka Lisker, beaten severely and stabbed in her Sherman Oaks home. Police arrived to find him hysterical and on drugs. They arrested him, and a young detective, Andrew Monsue, proceeded to build a case against Bruce. Bruce's father believed that his son was innocent, and urged police to investigate Bruce's friend Mike Ryan, a 15-year-old with a criminal record, who had gone to the house to see Bruce's mother the day before. But Monsue focused on Bruce, and presented what he maintained was evidence that Bruce was guilty. Bruce was tried as an adult; the jury found him guilty and he was sentenced to 16 years to life. In 1999, Bruce, still in prison, hired ex-cop-turned-private-investigator Paul Ingels to help him overturn his conviction. With the aid of then-Sgt. Jim Gavin of the Los Angeles Police Department, Ingels discovered that the evidence against Bruce had apparently been fabricated. Ingels and Gavin gave their findings to the LA Times, and on May 22, 2005, the newspaper ran an article questioning the evidence that had put Lisker behind bars. Two months later, a federal judge granted a hearing to consider new evidence in the case. Four years passed, and in August 2009 a federal judge ruled that Lisker had been convicted on false evidence and must be retried or set free. On August 17, 2009, he was set free on bail. Six weeks later, he went back to court, at which time the prosecutor said that too much time has passed to retry the case and they had no choice but to dismiss the charges. One year later, the state asked the court to return Lisker to prison based on a technicality arguing that Lisker was late filing his petition for release. A judge rejected that motion. Concluding onscreen graphics: Bruce Lisker remains free...for now. Update: Concluding onscreen text graphics for the 05/28/11 rebroadcast: On August 13, 2011, the second anniversary of his release, Bruce Lisker is getting married. Paul Ingels will be his best man. Includes interviews with: Bruce Lisker; Phillip Rabichow, prosecutor; Scott Glover and Matt Lait, LA Times reporters; Robert Hughes, one-time prisoner in the cell next to Lisker; Paul Ingels, private investigator; Sgt. Jim Gavin, LAPD; Mort Borenstein, the new owner of Dorka Lisker's house. (C: Erin Moriarty - P: Liza Finley, Greg Fisher)

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "My Mother's Murder" - On the morning of June 5, 2005, Noura Jackson, a teenager, called the police to report that she had discovered the body of her mother, Jennifer Jackson, in their Memphis, Tennessee home. Jennifer, a 39-year-old divorced single parent, was a successful bond trader, who provided Noura with a generous lifestyle. Due to the brutality of her murder, police initially considered a possible link between Jennifer's death and the unsolved shooting death of her estranged husband, Nazmi Hassanieh, seventeen months prior; they also focused on Jennifer's ex-boyfriend, Mark Irvin, a minister, who had an alibi. Although there was a lack of physical evidence at the crime scene, Noura's conflicting accounts of her activities in the hours before she called 911, a gap in her cell phone usage, and an early morning trip to Walgreen's to purchase first aid supplies for a cut on her hand, caused police to focus on her as a suspect. While none of the DNA at the crime scene matched Noura's, she was eventually charged with her mother's murder. Four years later, at her trial, prosecutors alleged that the seemingly good relationship between mother and daughter was strained due to Jennifer's criticism of Noura's hard-partying lifestyle and charged that this was the motive for the crime. The jury found Noura guilty of second-degree murder -- she still maintains her innocence. Onscreen graphics: Noura Jackson was sentenced to 20 years in prison. She will be 39 years old when released -- the same age her mother was when she was murdered. Interviewed: Noura Jackson; family friends Susan Tobey, Renea McMillan, Ansley Larsson, Dana Frederick; Sergeant Tim Helldorfer with the Memphis Police Department; Memphis detectives Lieutenant Mark Miller and Sergeant W.D. Merritt; Sergeant Connie Justice, the first officer to interview Noura; Valerie Corder, Memphis Defense Attorney; Prosecutor Amy Weirich. (C: Richard Schlesinger - P: Jay Young) (OAD: 04/10/10)

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Taken: The Amber Dubois Story" - a report on the February 13, 2009 disappearance of Amber Dubois, just blocks from Escondido High School in Southern California. 48 HOURS examines the permanent impact her disappearance has had on her family, even after the discovery and conviction of the murderer. Initially, with no clues as to her whereabouts, investigators began to look at her mother Carrie McGonigle's live-in boyfriend, Dave Cave as a person of interest. Carrie herself and Amber's father, Moe Dubois, soon began believing that Cave was responsible for Amber's disappearance. Almost a year later, another teenage girl, Chelsea King, went missing. Chelsea had been running just ten miles from where Amber disappeared. Police quickly found Chelsea's underwear with DNA evidence that would lead them to the arrest of convicted sex offender John Gardner, who was out on parole. Gardner was then also identified by another woman, Candice Moncayo, as the man who attacked her on the same jogging trail just two months earlier. Then police found Chelsea's body and Gardner was charged with her murder and the attack against Moncayo. Under interrogation and facing the death penalty for the murder of Chelsea, Gardner agreed to lead police to Amber's body in exchange for avoiding the death penalty. John Gardner was convicted of both Amber's and Chelsea's murders and sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of parole. In his exclusive interview with 48 HOURS MYSTERY, he recounted the day he murdered Amber and admitted he is the most dangerous type of sexual predator. He said he needs to be locked up forever.

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Chasing the Barefoot Bandit" - A report on Colton Harris-Moore, also known as the "Barefoot Bandit," because of his habit of committing crimes barefoot and leaving chalk outlines of his feet; and whose criminal exploits included stealing planes, guns, yachts, and even escaping to foreign countries. His exploits reminded many of legendary outlaws like Jesse James, and as news of his crimes spread beyond the Pacific Northwest, his popularity grew, even spawning Facebook fan pages. Born on Camano Island, Washington, Harris-Moore was an unpopular teen, physically neglected and mentally abused by his mother, Pam Kohler. He wanted to become a pilot, but instead turned to a life of crime at age 10, stealing laptops, cell phones, and jewelry. He was arrested and sent to a halfway house, but escaped custody and continued breaking into vacation homes and leaving his mark. He even ordered a DVD on learning to fly a plane with a stolen credit card. In 2008, he stole his first plane, crashing it 250 miles away from where he stole it, and simply walked away. He then worked in Las Vegas, then went to Canada and stole guns. In 2009, he stole his second plane, and the legend of Colton Harris-Moore was born. After stealing his third plane, the Department of Homeland Security joined in the hunt; but he still avoided capture. In 2010, he stole an airplane in Bloomington, Indiana and flew it to Abaco Island in the Bahamas, where he continued to commit break-ins. While 48 HOURS was on his trail in the Bahamas, he allegedly stole a yacht and escaped to the nearby Bahamian island of Eleuthera. He was spotted by some local teens who, knowing about the $10,000 reward offered for his capture, chased him by boat. Police joined in the hunt, and Harris-Moore was finally captured. Deported from the Bahamas, he is was returned to the U.S., where he was indicted on federal charges for stealing two planes, guns, a boat and flying without a license. He faces ten years behind bars. Onscreen graphics: Colton Harris-Moore will be arraigned Thursday in federal court. He faces additional charges in several states. Colton and his mother have not seen each other since his arrest. She's had offers to buy Colton's story and has hired a well-known entertainment lawyer. Interviewed: Ashley Martin, childhood friend of Colton; Jessica Wesson, classmate; Paul Ciolino, 48 HOURS investigator; Bob Friel, Harris-Moore biographer; Jacquie Staggs, friend of Colton's mother; Harley Davidson Ironwing, burglary accomplice; Colleen Armstrong, editor of the local newspaper on Orcas Island; Kyle Ater, owner of the Orcas Homegrown Market, allegedly burglarized by Colton; Suzanne

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "fugitive@hotmail.com" - a report on the three-year international manhunt and eventual capture of Dr. Yazeed "Yaz" Essa, a Cleveland doctor accused of murdering his wife, Rosemarie. In February 2005, Rosemarie, the mother of Essa's two children, was in a minor car accident. She suffered no physical injuries, but she passed out and shortly afterwards died in a Cleveland hospital. Her best friend, Eva McGregor, voiced her own suspicion that Essa had tampered with the calcium supplements that Rosemarie had taken on the morning of her death. Weeks later, tests of the calcium tablets proved that she had died of cyanide poisoning. Police went to charge Essa, but he had fled from the U.S. to Canada and eventually to Beirut, Lebanon, where he hid, knowing that he could not be extradited back to the U.S. In October 2006, he went to Cyprus, a country that does have an extradition treaty with the U.S. Interpol and the FBI alerted the Cyprus police that Essa was traveling under an alias; he was apprehended at the Larnaca airport and brought in for questioning and fingerprinting. His true identity was established, and he was arrested for using a doctored passport and held in a Cyprus prison. He fought extradition for two years but was returned to the U.S. In January 2010 his trial began. His protector in the Middle East and Essa's brother, Firas, both testified that Essa had told them that he had killed his wife by putting cyanide in her calcium pills. He was found guilty of aggravated murder and sentenced to life in prison with the possibility of parole in twenty years. Onscreen graphic at conclusion: The Essa family has asked to visit the children. For now, Rosemarie's family won't allow it. After the trial, the children were told that their father killed their mother. They haven't asked about him since. ## Scotty McCreery's Homecoming Celebration (& rebroadcast-edited version)

A hometown celebration for American Idol finalist Scotty McCreery in Garner, NC. McCreery performed a concert for a cheering hometown crowd of thousands packed at Garner's Lake Benson Park. The performance was Scotty's hometown reward for advancing to the final three in this year's season of "Idol." In stops at local radio stations, his high school and his former workplace, McCreery insisted he's the "still the same old kid" who left Garner for Hollywood four months ago. WRAL broadcast the entire celebration and Scotty's performance before his adoring hometown fans.

A WRAL News Documentary – "On the Edge"

"On the Edge" is a half-hour documentary, hosted by WRAL News anchor David Crabtree, that follows the story of Lamont Moore, a 19-year-old member of the Crips gang. Moore was suspended from his high school, got involved in a robbery and spent two years in prison. After his release, his public school wouldn't take him back, so Moore enrolled in the EDGE program. EDGE stands for education, development, growth and employment. Its goal is to help students who've been kicked out of public schools earn a GED and get enrolled in college.

"On the Edge" chronicles Lamont's challenging journey through the EDGE program. It profiles EDGE's director, a dynamic 71-year old woman who's committed to helping these troubled youths get on the right path in life. It tells the stories of other gang members who have graduated from EDGE and it shows how a successful program that can reduce gang-related crime is facing elimination because of a lack of funding.

A WRAL News Documentary – "Lo Lo"

Her family affectionately calls eighty-year old Lois Shoolbred "Lo Lo". For most of her life she was a dynamic and charismatic career woman, who worked in television and traveled the world organizing star-studded events with celebrities like Tony Bennett and Robert Plant. Now Lo Lo is being ravished by Alzheimer's, an irreversible, progressive brain disease that slowly destroys memory and thinking skills. Her family must now endure the pain of watching their beloved Lo Lo's mind slip away.

WRAL-TV5 Issues/Programs Quarterly Report

April 1, 2011 – June 30, 2011

Lo Lo's son, Dave Simpson invited WRAL News reporter Cullen Browder into his world to see the impact of Alzheimer's on his mother and the rest of his family. The result is this half-hour documentary called "Lo Lo". WRAL spent hours capturing intimate moments with Lo Lo and her family. The documentary shows the sadness of Lo Lo forgetting her own family members' names, rambling incoherently and becoming confused, angry and agitated. It also reveals her family's courage as they accept the consequences of this insidious disease and embrace Lo Lo's struggle with laughter and love.

CBS RELIGIOUS AND CULTURAL SPECIAL

"Stewards of the Earth: One Planet, Many Faiths" - a report on how people of different faiths incorporate their religion's teachings into various programs to help the earth. The special highlights the work of: 1) Earth Sangha, founded by Lisa and Chris Bright, a non-profit Buddhist ecological restoration organization based in northern Virginia. Both Chris and Lisa believe that their dharma, or life's path, is devoted to the restoration of native plants and trees. 2) The Jewish Farm School near Cold Springs, New York, founded by Scott Simcha Schwartz and Nati Passow. The mission of the school is to practice and promote sustainable agriculture using methods based on Jewish traditions. 3) Ibrahim Abdul-Matin, a Muslim environmental activist and author of "Green Deen: What Islam Teaches About Protecting the Planet". Abdul-Matin believes that caring for the environment is a cause for which people of all faiths can stand united. 4) Reverend Linda Springer Gruber of St. John's United Church of Christ in Phoenixville, Pennsylvania discusses her parish's commitment to the environment and social justice. The church has made a commitment to environmental stewardship through the creation of an organic community garden and requires the gardeners to donate at least ten percent of their harvest to local food banks and church pantries. (Narrator: Ted Holmes. Producer & Writer: Elizabeth Kineke. Associate Producer: Kathleen Fieffe. Executive Producer & Director: John P. Blessington. Produced in consultation with: National Council of Churches; United States Conference of Catholic Bishops; The Islamic Society of North America; Union for Reform Judaism; New York Board of Rabbis.)

Reptile Black Market

WRAL-TV5 Issues/Programs Quarterly Report
April 1, 2011 – June 30, 2011

Spring is here. A time when reptiles and turtles start coming out in full force. It's also the time that poachers hit wildlife parks with one thing in mind – catching enough to cash in. There is the legal pet trade out there. However, this report looks at illegal capture and trade. A Raleigh man is now the focus of a federal investigation after he was found driving around the Alligator River Wildlife Refuge with a box of protected turtles in his trunk. Many reptiles in our parks are already endangered. The illegal trade only increases the threat.
